SUNDAY PLACES BLAME FOR MANY SINS ON NEGLECI OF PROPER TRAINING AT HOME

Evangelist Criticises Parents of Children, and Declares That Question of Religion in the Home Is Most Important; Sermon One of Best Yet Given

It would be hard to imagine anything more inspiring than Billy Sunday's expressed opinion of the home—"the most sacred spot on the globe." It would be hard to imagine anything that would send a deeper thrill through one than this man's beautiful sentiments of the greatest institution in America, or any other country, today. Not inspiring in the way an American is inspired by a view of the Stars and Stripes in some far-away land. Not thrilling in the way that one is thrilled by watching a military review and listening to the lively music of a military band. Rather inspiring in the way that the "Ave Maria" is inspiring, thrilling in the way the soft strains of this beautiful song thrill a thrill of peace, contentment and complete satisfaction with everything and everybody.

Billy Sunday preached on "The Home" last night. His sermon was heard by more than 8,000 people, many of whom were young men and young women. And it would not be a great mistake to say that more than one mother and father left the tabernacle with a feeling deep down in their hearts that, perhaps, after all, they were at fault; they were not living up to what may well be expected of them as parents. And it would be a no greater mistake to say that more than one son and daughter left determined to make companions of their parents to assist them in drawing the ties of family than which there are no greater, closer together. More than one person left the big auditorium perturbed and more than one probably will not rest until he has corrected some of the many faults Billy Sunday made him see so vividly.

A Different Sunday.

To hear and watch Billy Sunday last night was a privilege, a privilege which everyone in Colorado Springs should have. But the sermon he gave last night was not just exactly the Billy-Sunday of the night before or any other time. He seemed to be a different man. His methods were just a little bit different, or so it seemed. His language, his tone of voice, his gestures—all were different.

It seemed that all the time he was thinking of his own home, his own family ties, his own wife and children. Behind every word he uttered there was a note of love and affection. His sympathy was touched, and he spoke from the very depths of his heart. It was in a tone of anguish that he told of the breaking up of homes and the dissolving of the sacred ties of family. And again it seemed that his secret thoughts were of his own home. He was thinking of all his own happiness and his family's happiness and then of the sorrow in other families and was grieved because Everybody could not be blessed as he has been blessed.

This is the spirit that the Billy Sunday of last night put in his audience. Only once or twice did he get out of this frame of mind, and then it was to upbraid fathers and mothers who sit by and watch their homes destroyed. Then he was like the real Billy Sunday, then did he speak like the man who had so bitterly attacked the fathers and mothers the night before for allowing their sons and daughters to drift into a life of sin.

Tells Story of John Payne.

The evangelist could have selected no better way to leave his thoughts with his audience than by the conclusion he used. It was dramatic, but not the variety of dramatics so often used by Sunday. He had finished giving instances of the value of training, using the world's greatest examples. He paused a moment. Then in tones quiet and soft, and in words beautifully phrased, he told a story.

It was a story of a man who died in a foreign country. For more than 30 years his remains lay buried there. Then, one day, an American battleship sailed into port, a detachment of (Continued on Page Two.)

SPRINGS GIVES SUNDAY HIS BIGGEST SPECIAL COLLECTION; RAISES $1,837

Eighteen hundred and thirty-seven dollars and ninety-six cents.

That is the amount Colorado Springs scratch off the debit side of the Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign ledger last night.

And it is just $27.55 more than any other city ever visited by the great evangelist gave as a special collection to wipe out current expenses.

"I take off my hat to Colorado Springs," Sunday said with a deep bow when the amount was announced at the close of last night's services. "I knew you could do it—and I'm proud of you."

Billy Sunday spoke from the depths of his heart when he said it, too.

About $1,000 already had been collected, so the debts incurred in arranging for the campaign are in a fair way of being canceled within a short time.

Billy Sunday has no interest in the amount collected for current expenses; reward for his services comes from the collections of the last day of his campaign—and he thinks no more about that than he thinks about the complete failure of his revival. Which is not at all. Sunday does think something about the money collected, too. But this is the reason:

Can't Work Under Debt.

"We can't do good work while a debt is hanging over our heads," he says. "That's the reason so many churches are of no value; they are plastered with debts. Clear away the financial worries so we can give all our time to God and this will be the greatest revival in the history of the west."

Eight thousand two hundred people packed in and around the tabernacle last night to hear Sunday's special sermon on "The Home." The crowd was the largest by about 100 that has attended any of the Sunday meetings in Colorado Springs. Long before the services began the big auditorium was packed and when the evangelist started to preach people were standing six and eight deep around three sides of the big building.

In reminding the people that last night was the time set for the first big

Four Institutions in Chicago in Charge of the State Bank Examiner

CHICAGO, June 12.—Four state banks in Chicago, with aggregate deposits of $6,411,997, and reported cash means of $1,436,992, were taken charge of today by the state banking department, which closed the bank doors and began examination of their affairs.

The four were the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, the Broadway State bank, the Illinois State bank and the Ashland-Twelfth State bank, known in financial circles as the Lorimer-Munday chain of banks.

The La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, the president of which is William Lorimer, unseated from the United States senate, was the main institution, the three others being outlying banks whose balances and reserves were carried to a great extent by the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank.

Chief Bank Examiner Daniel Harbin said tonight that he expected to see the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank open for business next week. He declared that he sent examiners to the smaller institutions as

THIEVES ENTER SUNDAY'S HOME; VALUABLES TAKEN

Proverb Get Gold and Jewelry While Evangelistic Party is at Tabernacle

Proverb early last night entered the house at 6 Boulder crescent, occupied by Billy Sunday, and his party, and robbed it of a considerable sum in gold coins and various articles of jewelry belonging to the members of the evangelistic party. The burglar was carried out into the evening meeting at the Sunday tabernacle was in progress. The proverbs went from room to room, breaking into the trunks and rifling their contents.

The burglar as soon as they returned at the close of the meeting, and notified the police at once. Chief Stark took personal charge of the investigation, and put all the available men in the police department to work on the case.

At an early hour this (Saturday) morning, several men had been arrested during the general investigation, but whether or not the proverbs were among them had not been learned.

The burglary, the police say, evidently was the work of the same proverbs who have been entering houses here for the last several nights. Their haul last night was the largest they have secured. Its exact extent will not be known until this morning, when all the members of the party have checked over their belongings, but several valuable articles of jewelry are known to have been taken, and a considerable sum of money. The women of the party seem to have been the heaviest losers.

TWO KILLED, 7 HURT IN SANTA FE WRECK

Limited Crashes Into Rear of a Freight Train at Bagdad, Cal.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 12.—Two passengers were killed tonight and seven were injured, some of them probably fatally, when the eastbound California Limited of the Santa Fe struck the rear end of a freight train at Bagdad, Cal., 160 miles east of here.

Most of the dead and injured were in the dining car which was demolished. The freight train was entering the yards at Bagdad when the limited overtook and ran into it, wrecking the two front cars of the passenger. A relief train was started from Bartow, another was due to leave here at midnight, and it was reported a third is on its way from Needles.

Dead and Injured.

E. M. CRAM, Los Angeles; CHARLES BELDIN, San Francisco. The injured:

Robert J. Keri, Los Angeles, legs injured, not serious.

Mrs. U. G. Orendorf, Canton, Ill., blisted about head.

Mrs. G. Zinnow, Hamburg, Germany, serious cuts on the head.

Mrs. J. A. Hansen, Yokohama, Japan, left arm fractured.

Mrs. Olivia Cunningham, Oakland, Cal., bruises.

A. Miller, Pullman conductor, slight bruise.

Barrow, train conductor, head cut, internal injuries.

Dining car waiter, name unknown, leg broken.

Those leads on this revival are great. You know what a lead is, well it's what the fellow says about me, not about my sermon. Both papers are handling this stuff in fine shape and I want to congratulate them. You give them a word of encouragement. If you like them write them and tell them so.

BALLOONS LOST IN OREGON MTS.

PIGEON FLYING NEWS OF DISASTER

Alarm Felt for Others and U. S. Foresters to Be gin Search

FORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—The brief message telling of disaster to the balloon Million Population Club, was the only word received up to late today from three of the four balloons that started from here yesterday in a race under the auspices of the Aero Club of America. As to the fate of the Kansas City III and the Springfield, there was an ominous silence. The other balloon in the race, the Uncle Sam, was wrecked in a thunder storm last night.

This morning on the wings of a white carrier pigeon was brought from the balloon Million Population Club, an ominous message from the Million Population Club:

"Balloon struck by lightning. Henry burnt. Come quick."

(Signed) MORRISON.

The message was written by George V. Morrison, probably while he was in a daze, for he failed to give his location. His companion was Capt. John Berry of St. Louis, the pilot.

Extensive Search Begun.

Every effort possible was put forth to find the Million Population Club and the other two unreported balloons. The United States forest service ordered every forest in the Oregon Cascades mountains to the search.

It is believed that the Million Population probably went down somewhere in the dense forest on the west slope of the Cascades, southeast of here.

Morrison is a frontiersman from Lewiston, Idaho, and it is believed he will be able to find his way out of the mountains and bring aid to his injured companion unless he, too, is injured.

Debate Sharply Fought.

During the discussion today there were flashes of the heat in the debate. Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, although voting for the senate amendment, said that Congress should not have made this un-American amendment, and called the amendment "ineffective and negative." Republican Leader Mann, who had vigorously opposed repeal, supported the amendment, declaring it left the entire question of the rights of this

CRUSHED UNDER AUTO WHEN IT TURNS TURTLE

FARRAR HAS NOT YET GIVEN PROGRESSIVE-G. O. P. RULING

DENVER, June 12.—No decision had been announced late today by Attorney General Fred Farrar on the question as to whether the Progressive or Republican party in the second in size in Colorado, Mr. Farrar yesterday was asked to pass upon the question by Jose F. McDonald, chairman of the state Republican central committee, and E. P. Costigan, leader of the Progressive party in the state. The question arose out of a controversy over the right to name election judges in cities of 6,000 or more to cooperate with Democratic appointees at the coming state election.

PROGRESSIVE-G. O. P. RULING

PUERLO, June 12.—Crushed under his automobile which skidded on a wet roadway and overturned, John Brennan, aged 45, agricultural expert for the Colorado Sugar company, residing with his wife and two children at Pueblo, was almost instantly killed near Pueblo this afternoon. Brennan, who was driving the car was hurrying toward the city during a heavy downpour of rain. He endeavored to pass a car containing Dr. W. O. Patterson, Pueblo county coroner, and F. E. Pimble of this city. The car of Brennan skidded and turned turtle. When Dr. Patterson, who heard the crash, returned he found Brennan was dead. The body was removed to this city.

Captain Berry is one of the most experienced aeronauts in this country and this is his first serious accident.

He was winner of the first national balloon race in this country, which was held in Indianapolis in 1905. He also has competed in international races in Germany and France. He is 66 years of age and a resident of St. Louis.

The carrier pigeon which arrived at its home here wet from the storm before 1 p. m. with word of the disaster to the Million Population Club, showed fainting, according to its owner, George Warren.

Mr. Warren said it came flying from the southeast and he believed it had flown anywhere from 100 to 170 miles, judging from its condition.

Snatches From Sunday Sermons

When it comes to riches God can make Carnegie and Rockefeller look like a plucked penny beside a thousand-dollar government bond.

If some of you people would burn all the dirty, rotten books on your library shelves you wouldn't have enough paper left to bank your hair with.

Envy is one of the biggest robbers in the world today.

I—II never read a book that envious at my God.

If the womanhood of America was no better than the manhood, I think God would have dumped the whole bunch into hell long ago.

Any kind of an illustration I can get that will give the devil a run for his money I will use in my sermons.

Colorado Springs will never be better than its home.

I haven't much faith in the woman who talks about heaven and makes a hell out of her home, turnin' that gatin' gun tongue of hers loose all the time.

Solomon, according to our standards of gold, had $5,000,000,000. He could have hired Rockefeller for a chauffeur, Carnegie for a gardener and Morgan to black his boots.

The fool, doin' patent that just can't bear to see a child corrected will see that child corrected in a state institution.

Parental neglect is the cause of girls gadding the streets.

The old rich mother is the curse of the day.

At lots of homes the old man never speaks except to growl when he wants food shoved at him.

Many a kid sent to the reformatory ought to be kicked and sent home.

Some kids I'd like to dust for about 10 minutes—I think when I got through they'd feel like Buster Brown—I prefer to stand.

The last thing the devil takes from a boy is what he learned at his mother's knee.

People swim out too far in the social stream; their children—especially imitators, try to follow and are engulfed.

You'll never have Colorado Springs from iniquity by running a barroom in your home.

Would you marry a girl who is a wine-guzzler and cigarette smoker, if she does that she'll do something else.

marines went to the grave of this American and exhausted the body. The dust was placed in a steel casket, put on board the mighty war vessel and brought back home. The Stars and Stripes floated above at half mast. When the vessel slowly steamed into New York harbor every flag on every ship was dipped. The body was sent to Washington on a special train. Great throngs lined the streets, and with bared heads watched the procession pass. The president, his cabinet, congress, justices of the supreme court official Washington paid reverence to the body.

"What a full battle had that man fought," Sunday asked. "None. What great statue had he carved?" None. What great creation had he delivered? None. He had simply written a little song, sung in the homes of the sick and poor, royalty and citizens. John Howard Payne had written.

The great choir began softly the strain of "Home, Sweet Home." At first the music was barely audible. Then it grew in volume, then slowly and sweetly died out.

For fully a minute the thousands sat breathless. Then they burst into one of the greatest orations yet given at a tabernacle meeting. The climax fittingly expressed the purpose of the sermon. The scene it created can hardly be imagined.

Sunday's sermon accomplished two purposes. It denounced the parents who will not take interest enough in their home, and children to raise Christian men and women. It scolded boys and girls for their attitude toward their parents and their wildness, which inevitably leads to sin.

Finds Homes Defective.
The downfall of most men and women can be traced to some defect in the home," Sunday said. "But it also is the fault of the person, if he insists on going where there is evil he will counteract all the good in the home."

The evangelist gave statistics of reformatory cases, then drew this conclusion: "Broken lives and blighted homes are inseparable."

Widely men and women were soundly roared. Billy Sunday has no quarrel with the wealthy as a class; he hates the average wealthy person because he uses his wealth to sin.

"Some women are silly, frivolous, extravagant; they have thrown to the winds all modesty, prudence, religion and the virtues that are so attractive in women and have allowed themselves to be flattered, caressed and bamboozled by a lot of jilted jays with cracked characters—fellow who ought to be arrested for disguising as men. The average society woman of today is more familiar with the names of fancy wings and champagnes and poker chips than she is with literature."

If the child is trained properly, it will not go astray, the evangelist believes.

"The normal way to get rid of a drunkard is to stop raising drunkards," he declares. "The normal way to get rid of prostitutes is remove the cause."

National life will never rise higher than home life, and home life will never rise higher than individual life, in the opinion of Sunday. Therefore, there is only one question to settle, he quoted Gladstone, "the question of religion in the home."

Women make the homes, Billy Sunday declares, and it is no use for a woman to talk of heaven and make a hell of her home—let loose with her old gatling gun tongue and rip everybody in the back."

Criticizes Parental Neglect.

"The fool-dating parent who can't bear to see a child corrected in the home will live to see it corrected in a state institution," Sunday says. "Parents rental neglect is the cause of girls gadding around the streets at all hours of the night. A girl can learn more of sin between 7 and 11 o'clock at night than all the preachers in the world can eradicate. If you people won't keep your children at home, the law will come. After the curfew rings, the law will grab your son or daughter by the back of the neck—or anywhere else it can get hold—and take off him or her for you."

The idle, listless mother also came in for sound criticism by Billy Sunday.

"Many a woman never darns a stocking, never patches a pair of pants, never hemstitches a curtain quickly and with a twinkled expression on her face to Mrs. Sunday," what is it you hemstitch—quiet? Then before she had time to answer, turning back to his audience—yes, a handkerchief." And he laughed like a school boy. "They manage to drag their old carriages around, only going out to a card party or dance or Dutch lunch or to see the milliner. If they died nobody would miss them—not even their husbands—until they got the milliner's bill."

Three hundred and sixty-eight out of 515 prostitutes in Pittsburgh were between 14 and 20 years old. Fewer than 1000. That was because their mothers let them gad around the streets so they could enjoy the frivolities of the world.

A Familiar Character.

Here Sunday told one of his stories in that inimitable way of his. It was a story of a woman of the type he had so frequently referred to. She looked out of the window and saw a friend coming to call. With her was a carriage load of kids. The woman immediately flew into a tantrum and all but cursed the friend for inflicting all the children upon her. But when she opened the door she saw all smiles, and fell on her friend's neck and kissed and kissed her and told her how glad she was to see her. And Billy Sunday did just that. One moment he was storming around the platform, exactly as many women storm and fuss and fume; the next he affected the cultured pronunciation of the society woman and gushed over. Then when the friend left the woman fumed again. A piece of china had been broken in the mad rush to get all breakables out of the way of the many children. The woman asked her own children which one had done it. All denied it. Then she roasted the kids. And Sunday roasted.

It must have sounded familiar to many, judging by the expressions from the audience. Then finally one confessed and was whipped for lying.

"Where did he learn to lie?" the evangelist shouted. Right in that home. His mother had lied just before.

A man on the street asked a little boy how old he was. His answer:

"Five at home, six at school and four on the street car."

"And where did he learn to lie?"

"Would you marry a girl who smoked cigarettes and lapped up booze?" Sunday asked. "If she'll do that, she'll do things far worse, she'll do anything. Women in society today are becoming drunkards. Someone has got to drive a sword into their purple sores—and I guess it's up to me to do my part."

Whereupon the audience gave him an ovation. Colorado Springs people like Billy Sunday and like him well.

The world owes a debt of gratitude to mothers," he said. "We must discover what is jeopardizing the home, for when manhood refuses to defend motherhood, sure oblivion awaits the nation."

FOLLOWING THE SUNDAY PARTY

"Rescue the Perishing," a little booklet by Fred R. Seibert of the Billy Sunday party, was highly recommended yesterday afternoon by Dr. Daniel Garvin and Dr. J. S. Wilson. The booklet will be of untold value to all those who desire to do personal work." Mr. Wilson said: "And for all others, too." Dr. Garvin added: "The booklets may be obtained at the tabernacle.

A special section at the tabernacle reserved for business men was well filled last night.

The top of Billy Sunday's pulpit resembles a meal ticket after it has been stepped on, by a man wearing hob-nailed boots. Incidentally a ring on Mr. Sunday's finger is much the worse for wear.

Billy Sunday, in spirit if not in person, has captured the city hall. In every office the subject under discussion at any time of the day is invariably Billy Sunday, and in the mayor's office yesterday was found lying open on a divan a copy of "The Real Billy Sunday." Truly, the campaign is far-reaching in its results.

"I think the women in some Sunday afternoons to hear my sermon on Booze. I'm going to let you in just because you can vote out here," Billy Sunday told his audience in making his announcements last night. "You know the saloon interests are scared to death of the women voters—and that's the greatest compliment I can pay. You know, too, that the women have the vote in almost all the states that vote on the liquor question this year."

MOUNT LASSEN IS IN ERUPTION AGAIN

Smoke and Steam Reach

Height of 2,500 Feet;
Most Serious Yet

REDDING, Cal., June 12.—The fourth and greatest eruption of steam and smoke from the new opening near the peak of Mount Lassen, at the foot of the Shasta range, occurred late today. The smoke column reached an estimated height of 2,500 feet.

The first spout of smoke was seen at 3:15 p.m. A great column arose above the snow of the mountain top, and seemed to stand in the sky for half an hour. It gradually subsided, but was followed by puffs and jets at intervals as long as the watchers were able to see the outline of the mountain against the sky.

The first outburst of Mount Lassen occurred May 30, and broke a hole in the side of the mountain near the peak. A second, somewhat larger, occurred June 1 and a third June 3. None approximated the magnitude of the one tonight, and all were ascribed of melting snow, reaching certain chemical formations within the mountain.

Mount Lassen is at the foot of the Cascade range and at the edge of a vast volcanic area reaching into several states. Geysers abound. Reports after sundown were that no flames or reflection of flames could be seen from a distance.

Marriage Does Not Affect Identity of Candidate for Office

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 12.—A woman whose name is changed by marriage in the interval between a nominating primary and the regular state election in California may make the campaign under her maiden name and qualify, if elected, according to an opinion rendered today by Attorney General Webb. He held that marriage did not affect the identity of the candidate.

Announced that she would be married after the August primary regardless of its effect upon her candidacy.

RESOLUTE EASILY DEFEATS VANITIE IN 30-MILE RACE

LETTER SLUGGISH AND FAILED TO SHOW FORM DISPLAYED IN LAST FOUR RACES.

RESOLUTE THIRTY WINNER

SANDY HOOK, June 12.—The flag officers' cup defense yacht Resolute today added another victory to her string of successes over Alexander Cochran's Vanitie by winning a race under conditions which in the light of previous contests were supposed to favor her rival.

The course was a 10-mile triangle 10 miles to a leg. The wind was fresh at the start and moderating to light at the finish. Two-thirds of the course was broad off the wind.

Resolute led from the start and won by two minutes and 47 seconds in elapsed time, and by six minutes and 47 seconds in corrected time. Vanitie, after being 100 yards behind for four minutes in the rear, gained 22 seconds in the reach to the second mark and 22 seconds on the reach leg to the finish.

In three of the six previous races Vanitie showed marked superiority in reaching runs. But today she seemed sluggish.

The race closed the Sandy Hook series for the cup yachts with three straight wins for Resolute. She took the first by seven minutes 29 seconds, the second by one minute 16 seconds, the third by six minutes.

The next race for the cup yachts will be on June 23 in Long Island sound under the auspices of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club. It is expected that Resolute, third of the cup defense candidates, will then be in fine shape for the contest. She was unable to participate today.

Ouimet was tied for twelfth place in the entire list with Tom Bell, champion of Belgium. The nearest amateur to Ouimet is Gordon Lockhart, who is tied at the twenty-fifth position with a score of 157.

Edward Ray and John H. Taylor, the holder of the British open golf title, tied for first place with aggregate scores of 150.

DR. FISHER DECLINES TO BE READ OUT OF PARTY

Sterling Progressive Gives His Views Concerning Nonattendance at Party Banquet Last Monday

Stating that he always has been a loyal Progressive and that he refuses to be read out of the party, Dr. C. E. Fisher of Sterling, Colo., has written The Gazette his view of the nonattendance of a number of Progressives at the banquet given in Denver last Monday night.

Dr. Fisher's letter follows:

Referring specifically to your editorial of the 11th, and the report of the Dodge-Custigan-Causey banquet at the Adams hotel in Denver as it appeared in The Gazette of the 12th instant, some of us are constrained to question whether The Gazette is perfectly fair, either to itself or to us. We have, however, reluctantly put the stamp of disapproval upon us for not attending these functions, and in effect would read us out of the Progressive party thereby.

The writer was in at the convention, but, notwithstanding the disorganization and all else, in upon his first convalescence, he was the only one to remain in Denver, and to attend the original Progressive dinner in Chicago. Paul, the 11th, born Chicago, conventions, the post-election conference in the same city, every state convention and conference held by the party thus far in this state, several sectional and local conferences, and every meeting but one of the state executive committee. I had already fought a progressive battle in Logan county before I had met another Progressive as such in the state. Last campaign I traveled more miles, made more speeches in the state, and covered a larger number of counties for the state committee than any other speaker. If these has ever been the slightest doubt about my Progressive feelings, I am not aware of it. Therefore, no flippancy reading out of the party goes.

Alleged Justification a Pretense.

Now, does it occur to you, mind that the alleged justification is more than a pretense. Not only did those who purposely remained away from that supper retain their Progressivism, but also their self-respect. The real affront came from the other side. The guests of the evening had gone to Oyster Bay of their own volition. They had said nothing to any of their co-workers in the cause of their intention. We had to learn of their departure and mission through the Denver Express. Now, did any of us receive any word from the home of our great leader except through the editor of that paper? Our national committee, Professor Dr. Long, was not notified, nor any of his delegates. The Secretary-Treasurer was entirely ignored by the matter. None of the members of the Finance committee knew nothing of the event. None but the three who were being banqueted was advised of the nature of the announcement in he submitted.

It has since been proclaimed that it was purely personal and almost accidental. None of us was advised upon the return from Oyster Bay of the cause presented and work done except through the Denver Express or its editor, who is not a member of the party, and which paper is the organ of the labor union here, to which no exception is taken in this connection, but which is not a Progressive party publication.

It seemed but natural that our national committee, our state secretary and ourselves were being ignored and were under the ban of disapproval, as here, and as was under these conditions, we decided, individually almost to a man, and not with studied concert of action, to let the function pass off in peace without our offending presence. That Judge Catlin of Monroe took the matter up out of keen anxiety, and that the subject was presented in the manner in which it got before the meeting, was not of our doing, but as stated by him, was solely his individual act, for which we accept no responsibility nor voice a word of censure.

The resolution gives the judiciary committee all necessary authority for investigation and hearings.

FIRST PEACE PROTOCOL IS SIGNED BY ALL

is likely to be a constitutionalist would take the executive power directly from Huerta, but he might do so from some other individual than Huerta might leave in authority.

The American delegates consider the method of transfer as less incident. All parties are now concentrating on the second part of the program, which relates to the name of the provisional president and possibly will include his cabinet of four. The protocol is the embodiment of that for which the United States has been waiting for more than a year — the signing of Huerta.

Rebels Not Parties.

Constitutionalists were in parties to today's protocol. There is nothing in it to which they are likely to object and if submitted to the conference they may still attach their signatures. The question of Constitutional representation, however, is still an open one. The mediators say they will not officially admit the Carranza delegates unless they agreed to an armistice. It is not doubted that the American delegates may try to secure a hearing for the Constitutionalists and that some way may be found for them to participate in the peace parleys after they arrive.

The whole day was given over to drafting the first protocol. When the conference ended Justice Lammie dictated the following to the correspondents:

Agreed to in Writing.

"I have been authorized to say that we met and put into definite shape the subject which we had been discussing and on which we had made substantial agreement yesterday. It was agreed to in writing and protocolized.

The members of the mediating colony might have met in optimistic spirit for the first time since the conference opened.

The discharge of a cargo of ammunition at Tampico today from the steamer Antillia without restraint from the United States did not please the Mexican delegates. They expressed approval, however, of the orders issued by President Wilson which impose the embargo on exportation of arms to Mexico by sea just as it had been enforced on the border.

With regard to ammunition being shipped from the United States, President Wilson made the position of this Government clear in an executive order directing that no vessels be cleared from American ports for Mexico and also that the embargo at border points be strictly enforced. It was pointed out in this connection, however, in several sources that ammunition might reach Mexico through subversive vessels clearing for Havana or other foreign ports, and then re-clearing for Mexican ports. The United States could not interfere with such shipments.

Twenty Democrats voted against the motion to amend in the amendment. They were: Brockton, Bryant, Clegg, Dietrich, Donahue, Driscoll, Duane, Estep, Fitzgerald, Galligan, Harrelson, Kitchell, Levy of Pennsylvania, Mitchell, O'Leary, O'Shaughnessy, Palmer of New York, Peplau, Raker and Kelly of Connecticut. Thirty-seven Republicans and three Progressives joined the Democrats in support of the motion. They were:

Republicans—Bartholomew, Barton, Britten, Burke of South Dakota, Butler, Davis, Dillon, Esch, Frear, Gardner, Gilbert, Goode, Green of Iowa, Greene of Vermont, Hamilton of Michigan, Hamlin of New York, Hartigan, Higgins, Humphrey of Washington, John of Washington, Kinsland of Nebraska, La Follette, Lenihan, McKeon, Madden, Mann, Morgan of Oklahoma, Nelson, Platt, Plumley, Prouty, Stump, W. Thomas B. Jones to Head Reserve Board

Name Will Be Sent to the Senate Monday, Old

Friend of Wilson

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Thomas Jones, a Chicago lawyer, former member of the Princeton University trustees and a personal friend of President Wilson, has practically been selected for governor of the federal reserve board. It was said officially to that his nomination would go to the Senate Monday.

The treasury department officials were still of the opinion today that it will be possible to have the 12 new reserve banks in operation by August 1, although they say the demand for money to move crops has been such as would suggest great strain.

Oklahoma and Kansas are now baring their wheat. Indications are that it will be a bumper crop, but the banks in the section are not hard pressed for money, and this condition is attributed by Secretary Mc-Adoo to the passage of the federal reserve act which will make it possible to redistribute commercial paper.

Practically the remainder of June will be required for the election of directors of the reserve banks. Banks which have signed their intention to be members are now balloting for directors of the A and B classes.

Each will have three directors of class A and three of class B, all named by electors selected by the various member banks. These directors of class B are then to be denominated by the federal reserve board and inducted with banking experience.

AMERICAN MERCHANTS RUSH TO RELIEF OF VERA CRUZ FAMINE

WASHINGTON, June 12.—News today of a threatened famine among inhabitants of Vera Cruz and vicinity set the telegraph wires to work out of the department of commerce and tonight Secretary Redfield had received assurances that American merchants soon would have large supplies of food on the way to the Mexican port to be sold at moderate prices.

These shipments will go in free of duty, if officials here can arrange it.

The American soldiers and marines are being fed through the quartermaster's department, but the civilian population, now greatly swollen by the influx of refugees, is entirely dependent on the retail merchants. The latter are charging enormous prices.

War department officials declined today to discuss General Funston's suggestion that the American lines be extended inland from Vera Cruz, but it is known that the subject is receiving careful consideration.

ST. STEPHENS SCHOOL AFTER NEW BUILDING

Holds First Commencement, With W. E. Loring First Graduate

St. Stephens School held its first commencement yesterday and William Ellery Loring received the first diploma from the institution. The commencement address was given by President W. F. Slocum of Colorado College.

Prize winners for the year were announced as follows:

Boothby Prize—Given by W. E. Boothby for the best story, essay or poem written for publication in the Red and Blue. Awarded by the editor to James Mandelbaum Wolf.

All Around Athlete Cup—Given by Mrs. Gibson Bell. Awarded to Donald La Motte Hathaway, 1913, president.

Athletic Association: 1912, captain football team; 1913, captain baseball team; 1913-14, captain "Blues."

Gold medal for the best essay on a subject in American history—Given by Mrs. F. W. Goddard.

Turf good citizenship medal—Given by Mrs. F. W. Goddard for the second best essay on American history.

Archibald David Todd Blair.

Honorable mention in scholarship:

For an average of 3.5 per cent or above: Everett Vance Clark, Arthur Sherman Haddaway; William Ellery Loring, James Mandelbaum Wolf.

Gold medal—First prize in scholarship in the school, given by John O. Sparer.

Won by Arthur Sherman Haddaway.

Scholarship Prizes—Scholarship in the school: First prize, Arthur Sherman Haddaway; second prize, Everett Vance Clark.

Gold medal—Given by Mrs. Gibson Bell and awarded by the faculty to the boy who is found most faithful to a high ideal: Frederick P. Champ.

The Rev. Gibson Bell made the following announcements:

Exchange at Groton, Mr. Boothby, to go there for first term, 1915-16. They in return to send one of their masters to us.

This coming fall head of the Greek department of St. Paul's school to make his residence with us and help us from his experience of 16 years at St. Paul's school.

I was new masters, one from Yale and one from Harvard, to join our faculty.

A perfect system, the foundation of which has been laid in the school for the past four years comes into definite existence for next year with the appointment of Donald La Motte Hathaway who has been with us since the school opened, who, through his four years' residence in the school has stood for everything that was right in its moral life and to whom is due, as much as to anyone else, the foundation, on a firm basis, of the school's athletics and with the appointment of Frederick Percival Champ who a month after his arrival at the school had won the respect of the boys to such an extent that they elected him to the council and relected him this last year and who has shown to us all that the interests of the school were in his heart even to the superintendence of the building of our athletic fields, back-susps as prefect for 1914.

He has given his life to the needs of the school. The year in which he appealed to no one to contribute toward the support of the school. We do not want to beg money for the running expenses of the school, and we shall not. However, the demand for places for boys in the school exceeds our present accommodations. We cannot grow unless arrangements are made for an increased number in attendance. We need only $1,500 to make it possible to take 35 boys and to furnish an infirmary. That amount we must have before Sept. 1, 1914. Next winter we ask for $15,000 with which to build a new building accommodating 100 boys.

And we will do the work in the honor, the most important work of all.

Christians of every class are being urged to do the work in their class who are not Christians. But our work is in the home which is far more important than the business house.

Hold this object before you—get every Christian to pray and work to try to get every unsaved one to accept Jesus.

MISS GRACE SAXE EMPHASIZES IMPORTANCE OF PERSONAL EFFORT IN SUNDAY REVIVAL

Outlines Work Section Leaders and Others Must Do to Make Campaign Success

Personal work, the foundation of an evangelistic campaign, was outlined and its importance emphasized by Miss Grace Saxe yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the section leaders of the prayer meeting committee at the tabernacle immediately after the sermon. Encouraging and discouraging features of the prayer meetings also were discussed and suggestions made which, if carried out, will make the home meetings an unqualified success.

This work—personal work—is the very foundation of this campaign, Billy Sunday told the committee chairman. Mr. Sunday waited for a few moments after his sermon to further impress their responsibilities upon the section leaders. "We must organize to do personal work. You see, each little group, if working together with every other little group, can touch every family in the Pikes Peak region. This is the only way we can reach everybody. The success of this series of meetings rests largely with you people. So please listen carefully to everything Miss Saxe has to say to you."

Personal Work Important:

Personal work cannot be emphasized too much. And you people and the members of the choir who are Christians are the ones who must do this work.

When I extend the invitation, I don't know when that will be—you people are expected to go immediately into the audience and talk to your friends, bring them to the front if you can.

Moody once said it had taken him a lifetime to learn that he must first convert the church, then the sinners. He said if he carried on an evangelistic campaign as it should be conducted he would preach five weeks before extending the invitation. By that time he would have the Christians working, and until the Christians are working and praying the preacher can do much.

Miss Saxe then took up the explanation of the work.

This campaign is the most important thing in the Pikes Peak region today and it should be given the right of way. Set aside your social parties, postpone club meetings, and ask your friends to do likewise. Try to give your undivided attention to this work.

"Our aims in the campaign are high—perhaps we will not realize them fully—but we are going to do our very best to accomplish everything we start out to do. Our aims are two in number: First, we are going to try to reach everybody in the Pikes Peak region; second, we are going to try to get every unsaved person to accept the gospel.

We are well organized to reach the people. Miss Miller is getting the work among the business women well organized; her committee will reach every one of the 1,400 employed women in this city. Then special meetings noon-day meetings will be held for men and meetings will be held for school girls and boys and for the maid-servants, in a body to attend the services. A series of seats is reserved for them. Brides also are provided.

The suggestion seems like wildness through those present, and the South Side district arranged to hold a neighborhood sweep next Wednesday night. Other districts will follow.

The reports are most encouraging.

Miss Saxe told her committee in giving final advice: "We are going to get an excellent work."

Dr. Samuel Garrison, chairman of the executive committee in charge of the campaign, lauded the Rev. J. S. Wilson for his excellent work in organizing the prayer meetings. "No other man could have done it so excellently," he said. The committee cheered its leader.

Miss Saxe asked the leaders for reports on their meetings held thus far.

The greatest attendance at any one meeting was 37, while the minimum was one. No conversions were reported. This, Miss Saxe explained, was important, and more work should be done relative to it. The meetings are being held both in Christian and non-Christian homes, and all the meetings are being attended by those who are Christian and those who are not Christian.

Many of the people say they have no time for the morning meetings, one of the leaders complained. "That's common complaint," Miss Saxe said.

"Pray for them and impress the value of the meetings on them."

KANSAS STILL CALLING FOR HARVEST WORKERS

Oklahoma Also Needs Hands: Information May Be Secured at Free Employment Office

Kansas is still calling for harvest hands—all she can get—and within the last few days Oklahoma has joined in the call. Many men have gone from Colorado Springs to work in the Kansas fields, but none, probably, will go to Oklahoma, although that state has a call-out for 10,000 helpers.

Within the last two days W. C. Daily, superintendent of the local office of the Colorado Free Employment Bureau, has received communications from the free employment bureau at Topeka giving information as to the help each county will need for the harvest which is just beginning. Estimates are given as to the number of harvest hands, the number of teams, and the number of cooks, as well as the probable wages and the date work will begin all through the wheat belt. Names of the places the men are to go to are also given, and the names of the people to whom they are to report.

Some of the men who have gone from Colorado Springs to Kansas for the harvest have been paying their way others have been taking their chances of beating their way on the freight trains. The present wages in the Kansas fields are practically double what they are in Colorado at this time, but the cost of getting to the wheat belt by railroad is about $10 to each worker. Although the eastern railroads are accustomed to make special rates to take laborers to harvest fields, the roads in this section of the country have not made such rates. This work's hardship on the workers, Daily says, and he estimates that a majority of the harvest workers have to beat their way on the freight trains.

DR. MARY NOBLE ELECTED CIVIC LEAGUE PRESIDENT

Mrs. W. R. Armstrong Named Secretary; Elections Yesterday Due to Resignations.

Dr. Mary R. Noble was yesterday afternoon elected president of the Civic League, to succeed Mrs. George A. Fowler, and Mrs. Willis R. Armstrong was chosen secretary of the organization, to succeed Dr. Caroline Speicher. The elections were necessary because of resignations of both Mrs. Fowler and Dr. Speicher. They had held office for five years, ever since the league was organized, and both felt that they had served long enough and that others should take their places.

At the meeting of the league yesterday afternoon Professor George spoke on "The Meaning of Ludlow." A catch of 30 trout in two days' fishing 20 miles north of here, near Mohonk, is the accomplishment of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Nokes of Kansas City, Mo., who are visiting in the Pikes Peak region. Nokes had never thrown a line for trout before, and had been told many yarns about how and how not to fish. As a result, he was in considerable doubt when he set out on his fishing excursion as to what the outcome would be, but he and Mrs. Nokes came back with a record catch. Mr. and Mrs. Nokes are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William J. McGuire, 100 Cheyenne Boulevard, and expect to be in this region for three weeks or a month longer. The fishing was done Monday and Tuesday of this week. Nokes had intended to go up along the Moffat road to fish, but since the excursion is Monument he has decided, as he puts it, that "Colorado Springs fishing is good enough for him."

Flag Day Will Be Observed Monday

Flag day falls on June 14, Sunday this year, but by common consent throughout the country will be observed Monday. Circulars calling attention to the day and requesting that it be observed have been sent to towns and cities everywhere by the American Flag Association. No exercises have been planned for the day here Monday, but flags will be unfurled from public buildings and private residences.

Tomorrow will mark the one hundred and thirty-seventh anniversary of the adoption by Congress of the stars and stripes as the flag of the United States. Special Flag day services will be held at the Elks home tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to which members of the lodge and their families and members of the G. A. R. and other patriotic bodies and their auxiliaries are invited.

The Twenty Year Test

"Some twenty years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Geo. W. Brock, publisher of the Enterprise, Aberdeen, Md. "I discovered that it was a quick and safe cure for diarrhoea. Since then no one can sell me anything said to be just as good. During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times, and it has never disappointed anyone. For sale by all dealers." Adv.

What the Press

EXPRESS.

Circus life is hard and Princess Ora was little adapted for its privations. She loved pleasure and ease, and when Jackson Crane, the ringmaster, began to whisper in her ear all manner of tantalizing promises and words of love, she listened. But "Scarlett, the Clown," the husband who adored her, did not guess all this.

At last the blow fell. Ora's farewell note stunned him. She had gone, taken their little girl with her. Gone to "find the life she always was meant for" — with Crane.

If it had not been for Pantaloan, a brother clown, there is no knowing what "Scarlett" might have done in his terrible grief. But he did not miss a single performance. Bearing a tragic load upon his soul, he went on turning everything to comedy for the pastime of thousands of people. In the end his strength of manhood dominated the wrong he had suffered, and he won back his wife and child. The film will be shown today.

Not So Strange After All.

You may think it strange that so many people are cured of stomach trouble by Chamberlain's Tablets. You would not, however, if you should give them a trial. They strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Mrs. Rosalie Rish, Wabash, Ind., writes, "Nothing did me the least good, until I began using Chamberlain's Tablets. It is decidedly the best medicine for stomach trouble I have ever used." For sale by all dealers.

'YOU CAN'T BE CHRISTIANS AND HIDE YOUR SINS,' SUNDAY AFTERNOON AUDIENCE

Declares People Are What They Are Because They Don't Want to Be Anything Else

The Society of Failure was the subject taken by Bill Sunday for his afternoon sermon yesterday. The text, Jeremiah 5:25—Your iniquities have been turned away from these things and your sins have withheld good things from you.

The sermon was another attack on those people who think they can hide their sins and remain Christians.

The evangelist said: "Your iniquities have turned away these things and your sins have withheld good things from you."

Jeremiah 5:25—

"In other words God said I want you to do this but you want to sin and not do right. In this verse Jeremiah is giving an explanation of the condition and sad state of things of this day. He came as a prophet of God to the people of God. God had promised them many things, but they did not obey them and did not get the benefits of the promise. When God enters into a covenant, he promises salvation, peace, joy, prosperity, victory, honor. Such are a few of the numerous promises given to the Jews. But they were rejected by the people and they did not gain the benefits. The same is true today."

God's promises to the man who accepts are numberless. Any man, unless he is a fool, would rather have God's love than God's curse. Any man unless he is a fool, would rather be saved than lost. Any man, unless he is a fool, would rather go to heaven than go to hell. But they were not possessed of these things and, therefore, the blessings were not a failure, peace turned to war, joy turned to gloom, prosperity to need, victory to loss and honor to dishonor. All were failures. Why? Did God make promises knowing he could not fulfill them? Was he "bankrupt"? No! Jeremiah laid the blame where it belonged, on the people and I throw it there today."

Jeremiah laid the blame where it belonged, on the people and I throw it there today.

Promises Conditional.

God said: "My promises are conditional. If you do my commandments, you will be possessed to the full of these promises" but they didn't do it and all curse came.

It was not unfaithfulness on the part of God. This is true of the people here today. We are under a dispensation of salvation, free, full, perfect, and eternal to all who believe. It is referred to you, who you may or where you may be.

We are sent to speak in the generations in which we live. We have many promises promised us today. For example: "He that believeth in me shall have everlasting life. We are promised joy and peace if we believe. We are promised provision for every need according to his riches. Not all our wants understand, but all our needs. Not all your wants, because you don't need them. I want a limousine, but I don't need it. If I supplied your needs with my riches you wouldn't have near as much as if some of Colorado Springs rich men would supply your needs and if Carnegie and Rockefeller supplied your needs from their riches you'd have more than it. Colorado Springs men supplied you with gifts, but God can make Carnegie and Rockefeller look like pugs and carpetbagger, come alongside a government bond. All belong to Jesus. He says: "The cattle on the field are mine."

In other words, there is nothing for you outside of Jesus Christ. All comes through Jesus. Such are a few of the numberless promises which will fill the life of the believer full of hope. To us as believers they should be desired and should be things greatly longed for. But are they possessed?

Examine Yourselves.

There are thousands of church members right here in Colorado Springs that are utter strangers to the highest moral and spiritual perfections. They know the A. B. C. of religion, or the joy of power in the hour of temptation. They have no assurance of salvation, no assurance of peace, no experience of God's power to keep them safe through temptation.

I am one of the kind of people who believe people are just what they want to be. If a man wants to be a libertine or a drunkard that's what he is. If a man wants to curse, that's what he is. If a man wants to be a Bible-reading Christian, that's what he is.

You are what you are because you don't want to be anything else.

There are many things promised us, peace, happiness, of joy, emancipation, provision of our needs. Do we have them?

There is one thing I want you to do that is examining yourselves. Look the matter square in the face. What is there in your life that hinders God from fulfilling the promises? Is there some inquiry, some malice of work, some backbiting, some impudent, unkind, uncharitable books. I wish we could have a festival in literature. There are some so-called Christian homes with books on the shelves that have no more business there than a rattler crawling about the floor or poison within the child's reach.

If some of you would burn all the books in your home that shouldn't be there, you wouldn't have enough paper left to wad a gun or to bait your hair with.

God Not Trifling.

Is the Christian life something that we must struggle for and never reach? Did God put the standard too high for human attainment? Was God's promise never to be fulfilled? Is God trifling with the people? No! The trouble is with the people, not with God.

"Your iniquities have turned away these things and your sins have withheld good things from you."

Jeremiah knew where the blame belonged. All that was the matter in Jeremiah's day is true today. Why don't you accept? What is it in your life that hinders you from being blessed? Is there something in your life, selfishness, pride, criticizing God, knocking the preacher? I will treat with respect any Jew or Gentile, negro or white man, any one, but I will not associate with a non-Christian. In other words, I will have nothing to do with a man who abhors at my God and abhors at my Christ. The Bible tells me to do this.

You have treated sin as though it were a charcoal fire. You'll follow some old society dame and tremble for fear of hurting her feelings rather than follow the Lord and his teachings.

You'll pay $200 for a new gown and drop a quarter in the collection plate.

I'll tell you why you don't let Christ in. It's because of some of your associations, lodges, clubs or financial reasons, someone you're afraid you will displease. There's many a man married into a family and when you run up against one sinner in that bunch and hit him, the whole gang will jangle but when I am through and we're in heaven God won't ask you whether you like me or not, or whether I like you or not. Every man should give account for himself. Confess. Be humble and receive a blessing. Second, renounce your sin, get rid of it, throw it out. Confession without renunciation doesn't amount to that, that's his point. You may say, "You said that." You may say, "We had a second class, we had a third class, and some people give up everything when they give up their hearts to God and receive all their blessings in our." Others only give up part, and when they give up the remainder receive a "second blessing." You got your wires crossed.

Necessary for Blessing.

We have established the fact that God made promises that he didn't fulfill to the Jews because they sinned. There are four things we must do to get the blessings.

Confess your sins. I'd hold by the thing that the Spirit reveals to you that is wrong and name that sin. It will be humiliating, but you will get the blessing.

Renounce your sin and abandon it. Separate your life from that sin. Confession without renunciation is absolutely useless, and so is renunciation without confession. Say, "God, I'll not go with that crowd."

The man or woman who is in earnest can put their fingers on the sore spot in their life and tell Jesus of it just as they tell a doctor where the pain is, that he may correctly diagnose their case.

Solomon said, "Whosoever is covetous of his sin shall perish, but who confesses and forsakes his sin shall find mercy." You will say, "God, I won't read that literary trash." You will call me names, but I've made up my mind never to read any book that sneers at Jesus Christ. Say, "God, I won't go with that crowd." The man or woman who is in earnest will begin by taking the spirit into his or her life. You tell God your troubles. Don't let this devil fool you; that is his business; it's my business to put you next.

Must Confess Openly.

You may say, "I can receive him in private, live better lives, but God says you must confess him open. Third, do not tell God all your sins. Now, you may not do what he tells you not to do, but do what he tells you to do. These are the two pillars that support the gospel."

Say, "Lord, I will ask pardon. I will give to the church; I will have family prayer; I will do what you say." Fourth, and last, give yourself unwholly, freely, mind, soul, person, influence, irreversibly to God. Don't make it a partial surrender. What would you think of a person who would give you something one day and ask for it back the next? You do that with Jesus.

God will take out of your life the things of which you are ashamed. The Lord can take away the desire. That is where he has the law here. Lay yourself in the arms and take your hands off. You have been bought with a price. Tell God you belong to him.

Tell God you're beat. Say the devil is too much for you; tell him that you have been negligent, trifling with the church, blaspheming, cursing, committing adultery, and tell him you don't want to do these things. Then he'll take away all the alloy. What is alloy? See this watch? It isn't pure gold. It's 18 karat gold. A gold part is copper. Pure gold would wear away by friction with your hands.

This gold ring was given to me by a woman who renounced cards and dancing and other sins. When she took it off, I said her I would not eat just as you have done as she stated straight, but if she fell I'd throw it away. I'm still wearing it. This diamond scarf pin was given me by the husband of that same woman and I said to him, "Charlie, I'll wear it just as long as you are on the level; if you fall I'll throw it away."

God will take away from you all in your life that makes you do what he says, not to do and won't let you do what he tells you to do, and he'll put into your life that which will make you do what he tells you to do and keep you from doing that which he tells you not to do.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12.—Speculative conditions today favored traders on the long side of the stock market. Clearings were on the same restricted scale as before, but in spite of the scale of demand the market moved upward.

Quotations: Ss. 119 1/2 (up 1/2); most every quarter, a few shares, such as the Hartmanns, Steel and Canadian Pacific, moved 1/2 point or more.

The average, however, showed a loss of 1/2 point, the moderate gains at the day's high prices were cut down when the last came off in the last hour.

Exchange rates continued to rise. Demand clearing made another 1/2 point since 1910. Money rates held firm, with higher quotations for long time loans. Indications were that week's gold exports would be in a large cash loss to the banker.

American stocks were dull in London, but foreign representatives took a position on the buying side here, tendency up, credited with taking 100,000.

In the bond market there was unusual activity in several issues which commonly do not figure extensively in the meetings, such as Lake Shore, debentures and St. Louis & San Francisco refunding. Prices in the main were well sustained. Total sales, par value, $4,500,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 12.—Bradstreet's will be tomorrow.

Gloomy forecast of the winter when harvests are the main source of the reports of better wholesale and retail buying in the central west, northwest and southwest, and what appears to be the ground swell in demand is in evidence at the larger centers, west and east.

The railroads are storing cars in the southwest in preparation for record traffic in winter, but there are some complaints of difficulty in getting hands for the harvest and sales of this cereal for future export are heavy.

DEFEATING THE PUFFED UP

CHICAGO, June 12.—Ranking houses and firms were on the same restricted scale as before, but in spite of the scale of demand the market moved upward.

Quotations: Ss. 119 1/2 (up 1/2); most every quarter, a few shares, such as the Hartmanns, Steel and Canadian Pacific, moved 1/2 point or more.

The average, however, showed a loss of 1/2 point, the moderate gains at the day's high prices were cut down when the last came off in the last hour.

Exchange rates continued to rise. Demand clearing made another 1/2 point since 1910. Money rates held firm, with higher quotations for long time loans. Indications were that week's gold exports would be in a large cash loss to the banker.

American stocks were dull in London, but foreign representatives took a position on the buying side here, tendency up, credited with taking 100,000.

In the bond market there was unusual activity in several issues which commonly do not figure extensively in the meetings, such as Lake Shore, debentures and St. Louis & San Francisco refunding.

Prices in the main were well sustained. Total sales, par value, $4,500,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.
